Brief Summary of the Program

The celebrations commenced by felicitation of the Chief Guest and the other guests which was followed by a dynamic fashion shows titled dancing dadis in which the elderly women of the old age home and recreational center expressed their matriarchal status by a invigorating and powerful fashion walk. Followed by an uplifting talk by the guest and speaker of the event Mrs. Sameera Nazeer, eminent legal expert & philanthropist who shared her own experience to motivate the elderly women to be more vigilant and confident as she iterated that not only one herself has the power to transform her life even the law of the land ensures and guarantees her welfare, security and protection. The emotional atmosphere was again shifted to a cheerful one by an energetic dandiya dance performance by the group of elderly women choreographed by Ms. Monika. The dance performance was followed by a powerhouse Nukkad performance by the Para Legal Volunteer of the Ideal Institute of Management and Technology on a monologue on women emphasizing the present condition of the women of the society in various phases of her life, battling the gender discrimination prevalent in the society right from her birth, to the sacrifices and cultural biases she has to face in her adolescence to the troublesome marital life fulfilling the demands and responsibilities of her in-laws. Later on in her last years where she has to enjoy as a matriarch she again falls victim to the abuse of her children and daughter-in-law and as such episodes are in whole time high as suggested and reflected by various empirical studies. The monologue on the women was so correctly portrayed by the students that the entire auditorium was emotionally travelling with their nukkad which began with a high pitched noise and ended on an emotional quotient.

Further the refreshment of the program was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Delhi Aspire, the club arranged for a delicious spread for the elderly women and the guests.

The program was a grand success and was able to reach its objective that was to spread awareness regarding the rights of the elderly women.

SEMINAR (29th January, 2020)

gender sensitization & Awareness of prevention of Sexual Harassment

The Internal Complaints Committee of the Ideal Institute of Management and Technology under the aegis of Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) organized a Seminar on 'Gender Sensitization and Awareness of Prevention of Sexual Harassment at Workplace Place Act, 2013' for the students, Faculty Members and non-teaching staff.

In compliance with the instructions of National Commission for women and guidelines issued in implementation of the directives of Hon'ble Supreme Court's Judgment dated 13th August, 1997 in the case of Vishakha and others vs. State of Rajasthan and Others on the subject of sexual harassment of women at workplace, the institute has duly constituted a Complaint Committee for considering complaints of sexual harassment of women working in the institute.

The speaker for the day was Prof. (Dr.) Ritu Gupta, Professor, National Law University, Delhi, who is also a member of the Internal Complaints Committee of the institute.

The speaker apprised the students with the initiative taken by the government on the topic of 'Gender Sensitization' wherein she started by telling the role of The National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) who has developed syllabus and textbooks across the subjects to promote gender sensitization in the school curriculum. The text books at all stages of school education prioritize gender sensitization in designing of activities/exercises. Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) has also prepared guidelines for gender sensitivity in textbooks and textual material, including question papers. The Government of India has already enacted a number of legislations to prevent exploitation/ harassment of women and to address the issues of discrimination and gender disparity. These include 'The Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education (RTE) Act, 2009', 'The Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 2013', 'The Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005', 'The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961', 'The Indecent Representation of Women (Prohibition) Act, 1986', 'The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013'; 'The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006', 'The Equal Remuneration Act, 1976', 'The Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 2017' and the 73rd - 74th Amendment of the Constitution mandating 33% reservation for women in the local governance. The Criminal Law (Amendment), Act 2013 has been enacted making the punishment more stringent for offences like rape, sexual assaults, etc.

The Government of India is implementing various schemes/ programmes to overcome gender disparity and provide equal status to women in the country. The schemes being implemented by Ministry of Women and Child Development for welfare of women are

- i. Beti Bacho Beti Padhao (BBBP) to improve the Child Sex Ratio and enabling education for the girl children,
- ii. Swadhar Greh Scheme to provide relief and rehabilitation to destitute women and women in distress,
- iii. Ujjawala a Comprehensive Scheme for prevention of trafficking and rescue, rehabilitation and re-integration of victims of trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation,
- iv. Rashtriya Mahila Kosh (RMK) to provide loan to poor women through Intermediary Microfinancing Organisations (IMOs), Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) to promote their socio-economic development,
- v. Working Women Hostels (WWH) for ensuring safe accommodation for women working away from their place of residence.

Apart from the above, she threw light on the Ministry of Women and Child Development who has been implementing the scheme of 'One Stop Centre' to provide integrated support and assistance to women affected by violence, scheme for 'Universalisation of Women Helpline' intended to provide 24 hours immediate and emergency response to women affected by violence and scheme of 'Mahila Police Volunteers' in which MPVs act as a link between police and community and help women in distress.

Further, the speaker discussed about the programmes conducted by the Ministry of Women and Child Development in collaboration with National Gender Centre (NGC), Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration (LBSNAA), Mussoorie on Gender Sensitization for the officers including District Magistrates.

Then the speaker went on discussing the 'Prevention of Sexual Harassment at Workplace Act, 2013 in detail wherein she started with how the guidelines given by the hon'ble Supreme Court in the Vishakha's Case has helped in enactment of The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act 2013. The Act was enacted with the objective to provide protection against sexual harassment of women at workplace and for the prevention and redressal of complaints of sexual harassment and for matter connected therewith or incidental thereto. It defines sexual harassment as unwelcome acts or behavior (whether directly or by implication) namely, physical contact and advances, a demand or request for sexual favors, making sexually colored remarks, showing pornography, any other unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct of sexual nature. Any act of unwelcome and sexual nature shall be considered as sexual harassment.

The speaker informed the students that an aggrieved woman can file a written complaint to ICC from three months from the date of the incident and in case of series of such incidents within three months from the last such incident. However, any delay in filing the complaint can be condoned by the committee upto further three months. In case of physical or mental incapability of the aggrieved woman, her legal heirs or such other person as described in Rule 6 of The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Rules, 2013 may make a complaint. On receiving the complaint the committee, before initiating an inquiry, may take steps to settle the matter between her and the respondent through conciliation and when a settlement is arrived no further inquiry is conducted. If the conciliation fails or any term of the settlement arrived at has not been complied with by the respondent, the committee shall proceed further with the inquiry. In case of filing of false or malicious complaint or false evidence the committee may recommend to the employer or District Officer to take action in accordance with the provisions of service rules or where no such service rules exist, in such manner as prescribed in Rule 10 of the Rules.

It was an enriching session for the students.

“IN VITRO FERTILIZATION AND SURROGACY”

(11th September, 2019)

The School of Law of the Ideal Institute of Management and Technology under the aegis of Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) organized ‘Guest Lecture’ for the third year students.

On 11th September, 2019, the Department of Law of Ideal Institute of Management and Technology organized a guest lecture for the students of second year. It was conducted by Dr. Namita Singh Malik, Associate Professor, North Campus, University of Gurugram, on the topic, “IVF AND SURROGACY”.

She started discussing the definitions of the two terms and then related the practice of it in legal terms. She stated that surrogacy refers to a contract in which a woman carries a pregnancy “for” another couple while In Vitro Fertilization is an assisted reproductive technology (ART) commonly referred to as IVF. It is the process of fertilization by extracting eggs, retrieving a sperm sample, and then manually combining an egg and sperm in a laboratory dish.

She dealt with the legality of the issue and then talked about the ethical aspect of the same. She also came up with various measures that can be taken to ensure better conditions thereof.

About 'URJAA THE BATTLE OF WORDS YOUTH CONCLAVE 2019'

The Ideal Institute of Management and Technology is proud to announce "URJAA The Battle of Words Youth Conclave 2019", which will take place on 18th & 19th October, 2019.

It goes without doubt that 2019 is a big year for India. Specially, the Lok Sabha Elections made 2019 more special.

If we look around, the political scenario has suddenly become very dynamic. Especially after some of the bold steps taken by the current government. Some might argue they are in the national interest while some call its sheer populism. We are sure, everyone has their opinions about these burning topics but can everyone bring out their perspectives in just the right way? If you think you can, what could be a better way to express them than at the Youth Parliament being held at Ideal Institute of Management and Technology.

The youth parliament aims to strengthen the roots of democracy, inculcate healthy habits of discipline, tolerance of the views of others and to enable the student community to understand the working of our Parliamentary institutions. The participating students are allotted different portfolios of Parliamentarians/ministers and they represent their respective constituencies.

Further, thumping on tables and raising the placards gives it an effect of a real parliament session. This Youth Parliament focuses on the importance of young minds working on stagnant laws and suggesting a change to rotate the wheel. This event stresses upon inculcating leadership qualities in the youth of our country.

It gives me immense pleasure to put forward that the committees and the agendas of the previous editions were highly appreciated not only by the guest of honor but also by the experts and students of various esteemed institution.

If you trust your ability to convey and convince your stand on a topic of national importance, get yourself registered now!

Theme: Sustainable Development Goal 5

Equality is not always about treating everyone the same – It is about treating people in such a way that the outcome for each person can be the same. This means putting things in place to support people to achieve similar outcomes. Equality of outcome can be achieved by making sure that everyone is supported to have access to resources and decision making and to be recognized, valued and respected. When supports are not put in place it usually results in exclusion even if this is not intended because people from marginalized situations do not feel or know that they can attend a group, even if the mission statement says it is open to all.

Gender Equality is achieved when women and men enjoy the same rights and opportunities across all sectors of society, including economic participation and decision-making and when the different behaviors, aspirations, and needs of women and men are equally valued and favored.

Twenty teams have registered for the competition; each team shall consist of three students out of which there shall be two mooters and one researcher. Out of the twenty competing teams, four teams shall qualify for semi-final round after preliminary and quarter-final rounds. Further, two teams shall proceed for the finals. The researchers are also required to take researcher test. For smooth coordination and execution of the event, twenty coordinators and volunteers are actively working in the supervision of the faculty members.

The institute proposes to conduct this event in association with your esteemed organisation and requests you to kindly consider the same for furthering and broadening the skill sets of our law students.

We shall require resources from your esteemed organisation for a fair and quality judgment. The institute aims to have three judges (two resources preferably LAC and one Faculty, IIMT) for the semi final round, and three judges (two resources preferably Secretary level and one Faculty, IIMT) for the final round.

We further request you to kindly provide the honorarium for the semi final and final round Judges.

The problem of acid attacks requires urgent attention, and one way to bring it to the forefront is through moot court competitions. Objective: The objective of this moot court competition was to raise awareness about the problem of acid attacks and to promote legal discourse on this issue. The competition aimed to provide law students with a platform to showcase their legal skills, including research, argumentation, and advocacy, in the context of a simulated court proceeding. The revered speaker for the day Prof. (Dr.) Ritu Gupta, National Law University Delhi was graciously called upon for the distinguished talk. Madam commenced the session with the way the guidelines given by the hon'ble Supreme Court in the Vishakha's Case has helped in enactment of The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013. The Act was enacted with the objective to provide protection against sexual harassment of women at workplace and for the prevention and redressal of complaints of sexual harassment and for matter connected therewith or incidental thereto. It defines sexual harassment as unwelcome acts or behavior (whether directly or by implication) namely, physical contact and advances, a demand or request for sexual favors, making sexually colored remarks, showing pornography, any other unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct of sexual nature. Any act of unwelcome and sexual nature shall be considered as sexual harassment. The speaker also informed the students that an aggrieved woman can file a written complaint to ICC from three months from the date of the incident and in case of series of such incidents within three months from the last such incident. However, any delay in filing the complaint can be condoned by the committee up to further three months. In case of physical or mental incapability of the aggrieved woman, her legal heirs or such other person as described in The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Rules, 2013 may make a complaint. On receiving the complaint the committee, before initiating an inquiry, may take steps to settle the matter between her and the respondent through conciliation and when a settlement is arrived no further inquiry is conducted. If the conciliation fails or any term of the settlement arrived at has not been complied with by the respondent, the committee shall proceed further with the inquiry. In case of filing of false or malicious complaint or false evidence the committee may recommend to the employer or District Officer to take action in accordance with the provisions of service rules or where no such service rules exist, in such manner as prescribed in the Rules. The talk provoked the audience to deliberate upon the current social situation and the way the same is being implemented in the nation.

Thereafter, the session shifted to its next and final leg wherein the revered keynote speaker Dr. Pavan Duggal, Advocate, Supreme Court of India addressed the audience via video
